

Implementing ABA at Home for your Young Child with Autism Workshop Series

presenter: Veronica Joker Schama, MA, B.C.B.A.

The goal of this brief series is to provide parents with an introduction to the training, materials and support necessary to:

- conduct an assessment of their child's current adaptive skills (language, play, self-help, etc.)
- determine which skills should be taught first
- identify effective reinforcers that will help parents teach their children new skills
- learn some ABA teaching strategies that will help parents teach their children more quickly, with fewer mistakes, and with more fun.

This workshop series will consist of 3 sessions. Material covered in the second and third sessions will build on material covered in the previous session(s). Please do not register for this series if you are unable to attend all three of the sessions.

WHEN: Thursday, September 9th, 16th, and 23rd - 5:30 PM to 9:00 PM

WHERE: Holston Valley Unitarian Universalist Church in Gray, TN

COST: $69.95 materials fee (includes VB-MAPP assessment workbook)

Pre-registration is required.

Light refreshments will be served. Seating is limited. Childcare will not be provided.
